- 9:00 am Junior Sheep Show

The BSG fiber event has been going strong for 43 years! It offers three full days of workshops and classes, gorgeous fleeces for public viewing and sale, and sheep and Angora goat shows that emphasize the beautiful fibers these animals produce. Join the enthusiastic crowd after dinner Saturday evening for the Spinners' Lead, where you can be entertained by the animals and inspired by the items their fleeces produce.

Daily schedules available at the information booth. As always, admission and parking at the Gathering are free. Registration for Judith McKenzie's class, workshops, other fiber classes and competitions are on-line. Please visit the website at www.blacksheepgathering.org for instructions, forms and the link to the secure registration site.

Lodging

There are many fine hotels and motels in the Eugene, OR area. If you need assistance with lodging, contact Travel Lane County at 541-484-5307 or at <http://www.eugencascadescoast.org/visitors/places-to-stay/>.

Mention that you are seeking lodging for the Black Sheep Gathering. They should provide lists of lodging and rates available during the BSG event.

Camping

Overnight camping at Lane County Fairgrounds has space available for recreational vehicles, campers and tents. There are a limited number of hookups, assigned on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Site Use Rules for Vehicles and Campers at Black Sheep Gathering are available on the website. Online registration is available on the BSG website
<http://www.blacksheepgathering.org/travel.html>

All hotels and motels fill rapidly in anticipation of the Black Sheep Gathering. Please reserve your room(s) early, to avoid disappointment. Camp sites also fill quickly. Register early! ©

AGM Breaking News! It was recently announced that Jonathon Loftin will do a presentation on Color Genetics and Robin Hart will demonstrate how to create a Fecal Float as part of the NASSA AGM schedule. Time & place TBD. Stay tuned to the 2017 NASSA Annual General Meeting Facebook group for important updates!
